

The Place Where Strangers Hide

*Through all of my tears, through all of my lies
Looking for that place where strangers hide*

*It's just like a song with no rhythm or rhyme
Looking for that place where strangers hide
That place where strangers hide*

*In the Eye of the storm rain can't even cry
Seeking to find where strangers hide*

*It's a dream in a dream no one can arise
I've been caught looking for that place where strangers hide
That place where strangers hide*

*Through all of my tears, throw away all my time
In that place where strangers hide
Caught in that place where strangers hide
Caught in that place where strangers hide
Eric Sander Kingston*
